

EVENTS AND TRAINING COURSES

More training courses, CPD and local events and activities are available on the IBMS website.

DATE	TITLE	VENUE CONTACT
January
11 Jan	Power of Process Champion Blended Course	Online divine.azange@nhs.net
11-13 Jan	ICC Technical Issues and Quality Assurance Webinar	Online UK NEQAS CPT
18-20 Jan	ICC Applications in Laboratory Practice Webinar	Online UK NEQAS CPT
February
8 Feb	Power of Process Master	Online divine.azange@nhs.net
June
16-17 Jun	Beginners Immunohistochemistry	Sheffield l.baxter@sheffield.ac.uk
July
14-15 Jul	Advanced Immunohistochemistry	Sheffield l.baxter@sheffield.ac.uk

COUNCIL ELECTIONS: YOUR CHANCE TO SHAPE THE FUTURE OF THE IBMS

The IBMS prides itself on being a professional body that is run by its members for its members. The IBMS Council is elected by Institute members to make key decisions, provide leadership for the profession and effective and transparent governance, as well as be a compelling advocate on their behalf.

The Institute is looking for IBMS corporate members, resident in the UK (which we take to include the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man), to stand for election to Council; members who will use their professional knowledge, leadership skills and experience to set the strategic direction of the IBMS, shaping the professional body's future and ensuring it continues to meet its members' needs.

Becoming an IBMS Council member offers an excellent opportunity to make a significant contribution to the future direction of the Institute and the profession and to use your experience to develop the Institute, while broadening your skills and networks.

Two National and five Regional (East Anglia, East Midlands, London, North East, North West) Council members are to be elected in 2021.

You can find out more about becoming an IBMS Council member, and access the online nomination form, at the IBMS website: www.ibms.org/councilelections/

IBMS
COUNCIL
ELECTIONS

